PART I
From Research to Implications

Introduction – What Is Critical Thinking? 1
A. Common Questions about Critical Thinking in English Language Teaching
   A.1 I’m a Language Teacher: Why Should I Be Concerned about Teaching Critical Thinking? 3
   A.2 Isn’t Critical Thinking Something Best Taught in the Students’ First Language? 7
   A.3 My Students Are So Unmotivated: How Could I Ever Get Them to Study Critical Thinking? 8
   A.4 Isn’t Critical Thinking Something That Students Pick Up on Their Own as Part of Getting a Good Education? 10
   A.5 Aren’t We Just Forcing Our Students to Adopt Western Styles of Thinking? 12
   A.6 Do You Really Need a Book on Critical Thinking in ELT? 16
B. Focusing on Critical Thinking
   B.1 Argumentation 18
   B.2 Logical Fallacies 21
PART II
From Implications to Application

Introduction 32

Section 1: The Critical Thinking Cycle 34
A. Developing Dispositions 34
   Activity 1: Prove It! 35
   Activity 2: Supporting Opinions: The ‘Why’ Game 36
   Activity 3: Challenging Beliefs 38
   Activity 4: Create a Profile: Understanding Biases 41
   Activity 5: Bias in News Headlines 43
B. Receiving 46
   Activity 6: Paying Attention 47
   Activity 7: Show Me You’re Listening: Body Language 48
   Activity 8: Show Me You’re Listening II: Backchanneling 52
   Activity 9: Picture What I’m Saying 55
   Activity 10: Listen. Don’t Interrupt! 57
C. Reasoning 60
   Activity 11: Categorize It! 60
   Activity 12: Rank It! 63
   Activity 13: Persuade Me! 65
   Activity 14: Spot the Problem! 67
   Activity 15: Sloppy Sophistry 71
D. Responding 73
   Activity 16: Reflecting 73
   Activity 17: Summarize This 75
   Activity 18: Critical Conversations 79
   Activity 19: Correct Me! 81
   Activity 20: The Critical Thinking Cycle: A Review 85

Section 2: Logical Fallacies 88
A. Logical Fallacies: An Introduction 88
   Activity 21: Introduction to Logical Fallacies 88
B. Logical Fallacies: Faulty Conclusions 93
   Introduction 93
Non Sequitur 96
   Activity 22: Does It Follow? 96
   Activity 23: Spot the Non Sequitur 98
   Activity 24: Non Sequiturs in Politics 101
Contents

Probability Fallacy
- Activity 25: How Probable? 103
- Activity 26: Drawing the Conclusion 104
- Activity 27: Fearmongering with Probability 108

Begging the Question
- Activity 28: Which Is the Better Reason? 111
- Activity 29: Don’t Beg the Question! 114
- Activity 30: To Beg or Raise the Question 118

Post Hoc Fallacy
- Activity 31: Does A Cause B? 121
- Activity 32: Fallacious Connections 123
- Activity 33: Correlation not Causation 128

Hasty Generalization
- Activity 34: All Students in This Class ... 132
- Activity 35: Don’t Be Hasty! 135
- Activity 36: Everyday Generalizations 139

Single Cause Fallacy
- Activity 37: Many Causes 141
- Activity 38: A Popular Restaurant 144
- Activity 39: How Many Causes? 147

False Equivalence
- Activity 40: Comparing Apples to Oranges 148
- Activity 41: They’re Not the Same 151
- Activity 42: Worger than Wrong 155

Sunk Cost Fallacy
- Activity 43: What Should They Do? 158
- Activity 44: Is It a Good Decision? 161
- Activity 45: What Would You Do? 164

C. Logical Fallacies: Questionable Reasons
- Introduction 168

Ad Hominem
- Activity 46: Don’t Attack Me! 171
- Activity 47: Attack the Argument! 174
- Activity 48: Guilt by Association 177

Red Herring
- Activity 49: Avoiding the Question 180
- Activity 50: Don’t Distract Me! 183
- Activity 51: Red Herrings in Politics 186

Circular Reasoning
- Activity 52: Don’t Go Round in Circles 189
- Activity 53: You Gotta Do What You Gotta Do! 193
- Activity 54: Is Circular Reasoning Begging the Question? 196
viii  Contents

Straw Man
   Activity 55: Don’t Exaggerate!  199
   Activity 56: Family Arguments  202
   Activity 57: Countering a Straw Man Argument  206
Either/Or
   Activity 58: The Third Option  209
   Activity 59: Either A or B But What About C?  212
   Activity 60: It’s Not So Black and White!  215
Stacking the Deck
   Activity 61: Half the Picture  218
   Activity 62: The Full Picture  221
   Activity 63: Fair Play or Stacking the Deck?  224
Equivocation
   Activity 64: Homonyms  227
   Activity 65: Changing the Meaning  231
   Activity 66: Equivocation in Politics  234
Appeal to Emotion
   Activity 67: How Does It Make You Feel?  236
   Activity 68: Be Afraid, Be Very Afraid  239
   Activity 69: So Many Emotions  242
D. Logical Fallacies: Mistaken Assumptions  246
Gambler’s Fallacy
   Activity 70: Heads or Tails?  250
   Activity 71: Monte Carlo  252
   Activity 72: What Would You Do (Part 2)?  254
Logical Paradox
   Activity 73: Is It a Contradiction?  257
   Activity 74: The Abilene Paradox  261
   Activity 75: What’s the Paradox?  263
Unwarranted Assumptions
   Activity 76: Is It Warranted?  265
   Activity 77: This Morning's Assumptions  268
   Activity 78: What Have the Romans Ever Done for Us?  271
Genetic Fallacy
   Activity 79: Which Is the Better Reason? (Part 2)  274
   Activity 80: Who Said It?  277
   Activity 81: Origins  279
Common Belief Fallacy
   Activity 82: True or False  283
   Activity 83: Accept or Reject  285
   Activity 84: The Things We Believed  288
Slippery Slope Fallacy
Activity 85: Negative Chains 290
Activity 86: Can I Have a Chocolate? 292
Activity 87: Countering Slippery Slope Arguments 294

Ignorance Fallacy
Activity 88: Evidence of No Evidence? 298
Activity 89: No Evidence Is No Evidence! 301
Activity 90: No Evidence Is Evidence! 305

Naturalistic Fallacy
Activity 91: Is It Good For Us? 307
Activity 92: What Is to What Ought to Be! 311
Activity 93: That's Just the Way It Is! 314

PART III
From Application to Implementation 317

Introduction 317
A. Creating a Critical Thinking Course 317
   A.1 Making Your Own CT course 318
   A.2 Negotiating a CT Course 320
B. Using the Activities to Supplement a Course 321
C. Implementing Critical Thinking Activities into Your Classroom 321
   C.1 Using the CT Cycle Activities as an Introduction 321
   C.2 Using Activity 21 as a Needs Analysis 322
   C.3 Using the Logical Fallacy Activities 322
   C.4 Returning to the CT Cycle 323
   C.5 Reflecting on Learning 323
   C.6 Keeping a CT Diary 324
D. Going Beyond the Activities in the Book 324
   D.1 Researching CT 324
   D.2 Finding More Fallacies 325
   D.3 Creating Your Own CT Activities 325
E. A Final Note 325

PART IV
From Implementation to Research 326

Introduction 326
A. Integrating Methodologies 326
   A.1 Action Research 327
   A.2 Mixed Methods Research 328
   A.3 Putting It Together 329
Contents

B. The ‘PEAR’ Approach 331
   B.1 Progressive Exploratory Action Research 331
   B.2 Progressive Explanatory Action Research 337
C. Final Caveats and Suggestions 344
D. Making a Contribution 345
E. Concluding Thoughts 345

References 347
Index 354