

CONTENTS

Foreword of the peer reviewer	ix
Preface	x
1 How can I make use of storytelling?	1
1.1 Facts tell, stories sell 5
1.2 What is social storytelling? 7
1.2.1 Listen to your followers 10
1.2.2 Find the right tone 11
1.2.3 Make your stories travel across relevant channels 14
1.2.4 Begin a long-term relationship with your community with social stories 16
1.3 Why is storytelling so impactful? 22
1.3.1 Stories wire visuals to our brains 22
1.3.2 Explain complex matters in simple stories 25
1.3.3 From hero to guide – guide users through your stories 26
1.4 How self storytelling works on your profiles – get inspired by best practice examples 27
1.4.1 Personal profile stories 28
1.4.2 Community profile stories 30
1.4.3 Brand profile stories 31
1.4.4 Journalist profile stories 34
2 A radically new toolbox for social storytellers	37
2.1 Story anatomy in place of the “hero’s journey” 38
2.1.1 Farewell to the “hero’s journey” 38
2.1.2 Guides 41

- 2.1.3 Story anatomists 45
- 2.1.4 Nanoparticles 48
- 2.2 Find story beats 51
- 2.3 Show faces and voices 54
- 2.4 Develop micro-stories 56
- 2.5 Use multimedia layers 63
- 2.6 Make use of cross-platform methods 68
- 2.7 Collaborate with influencers 72

- 3 Professional storytelling with your smartphone in a mobile-first world 79
- 3.1 Content-focused communication 79
- 3.2 Integrated content strategy 80
- 3.3 Storytelling apps and templates for all 84
- 3.4 Ensure professional quality 86
- 3.5 Precise preparation and project management pay off 88
- 3.6 Visual, mobile, social 90
 - 3.6.1 Smartphones, the all-rounders 90
 - 3.6.2 Digital literacy 91
- 3.7 Design your narrative strategy 94
 - 3.7.1 Engage with your users 94
 - 3.7.2 Visualise your language 96
 - 3.7.3 Experiment with user-oriented technology 98
- 3.8 What is quality content? 100
 - 3.8.1 Short, relevant, profound, purposeful, rapid 100
 - 3.8.2 Multimedia content 102
 - 3.8.3 Interactive content 104
 - 3.8.4 Immersive elements 106
 - 3.8.5 Live is life 107
- 3.9 The small multimedia ABC for social storytellers with their smartphones 108
 - 3.9.1 External smartphone equipment 109
 - 3.9.2 Shooting and framing 111
 - 3.9.3 Photos 111
 - 3.9.4 Videos 112
 - 3.9.5 Shooting 113
 - 3.9.6 Post-production 118
 - 3.9.7 Audio and music 126
 - 3.9.8 Texts 132
 - 3.9.9 3D objects 133
 - 3.9.10 360-degree spaces 135
- 3.10 Produce mobile stories in five steps 136

3.10.1	Storyboard	136
3.10.2	Framing	138
3.10.3	Recording and shooting	140
3.10.4	Writing	144
3.10.5	Sequencing and editing	145
4	Understand and implement mobile story genres		147
4.1	Smartphones change everything	147
4.2	Micro-storytelling	149
4.2.1	Hashtags	149
4.2.2	Memes	151
4.2.3	Feeds	153
4.2.4	Stories	158
4.2.5	Why stories and toks are replacing the newsfeed	163
4.3	In-built storytelling tools and platform specifics	166
4.3.1	Social+ companies	167
4.3.2	Digital shop windows vs. social storytelling	168
4.3.3	Twitter	170
4.3.4	TikTok	183
4.3.5	Snapchat	186
4.3.6	Instagram	192
4.3.7	Facebook	201
4.4	Explainer videos	209
4.5	Social audio	210
4.6	Live social TV	214
5	Find the best strategy		220
5.1	Integrated, convergent storytelling	222
5.2	How do I find good stories?	222
5.2.1	Search, find, verify	224
5.2.2	Story DNA	225
5.2.3	Platform-agnostic planning	227
5.3	How do I prepare best?	228
5.3.1	Facts, people, stories	228
5.3.2	Platform-specific planning and producing	229
5.4	An excellent concept is a must	232
5.4.1	Planning	233
5.4.2	Integrate and customise your micro-stories multiple times	236
5.4.3	Build a slow, long-form interactive story	237
5.4.4	Give data a face and explain data stories with data relevant for your followers and community	238

6	Evaluate your campaigns: Never without monitoring	240
6.1	Why do I use digital monitoring?	241
6.1.1	FMD (“Filmmakers Germany”) campaigns as best practice examples	244
6.1.2	“Uganda Series 2018. Big five – in the wild?”	245
6.1.3	Japan 2019/2020 – Bucket List	246
6.2	What are relevant key performance indicators?	248
6.2.1	Evaluate the whole customer journey	251
6.2.2	Think sustainable instead of clickbait and likes	256
6.2.3	“All-in-one” campaigns = content × reach × event, for instance, the “Usedom Sunspot Awards”	258
6.2.4	How do I evaluate social media storytelling and content marketing? “The disruptive tragedy”	260
6.2.5	Generate leads and evaluate conversions	263
6.3	What makes your campaign a success?	265
6.3.1	No content without a call-to-action	265
6.3.2	Plan and initiate user-generated content	267
6.3.3	Keep in touch with your community!	269
7	Everything remains different: What’s next for storytellers?	271
7.1	Prepare for tech and storytelling trends of the near and medium future	273
7.2	What should you keep an eye on? Our expert tips	274
7.2.1	Deana Mrkaja: Tell immersive stories	274
7.2.2	Sascha Gottschalk: Work with user-generated content	275
7.2.3	Tim Hendrik Walter: Learning together in social stories	276
7.2.4	Maximilian Wolf: With edutainment and livestreams you are on the right track	276
7.2.5	Adil Sbaji: Find creative solutions for copycats	277
	Authors and experts in this book	279
	Index	286